

Innovation governance and links to RIS3 implementation in Sweden

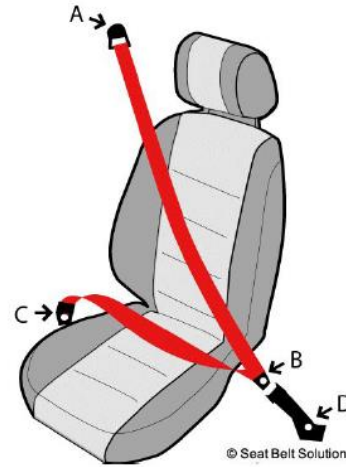

Linköping, 31 January 2019
Nils Gabrielsson

Content

- 1. Innovation governance structure in Sweden
- 2. Regional innovation governance
- 3. Main RIS3 policy instruments

Swedish Inventions

- ● ● Innovation Leaders
- ● ● Strong Innovators
- ● ● Moderate Innovators
- ● ● Modest Innovators
- +

ABB

Atlas Copco

IKEA

SANDVIK

SKANSKA

.TELE2.

AGA

ERICSSON

Nordea

SEB

SKF

TeliaSonera

System overview

1. Government departments 3,5-4 bn EUR (Educ. + Enterprise)
2. Government agencies
3. National councils and trusts
4. Universities and research institutes

Main funding sources (2016)

Relative importance of funding sources to HEI (2016)

Regional system and governance

- “Much less complexity” with (very) few financing actors
- Regional authorities by law mandated AND required to deliver regional development, including RIS3
- Intricate inter-play local-regional-national levels
- System governance skills required

Regional level funding provided through:

1. State compensatory support
2. Tax-based income
3. ERDF/ESF
4. Competition-based funds

The Regional Development Strategy – a framework for RIS3

“The regional development strategy must be a comprehensive and cross-sectoral strategy for regional growth work in one or more counties and contain goals and long-term priorities for regional efforts promoting growth”

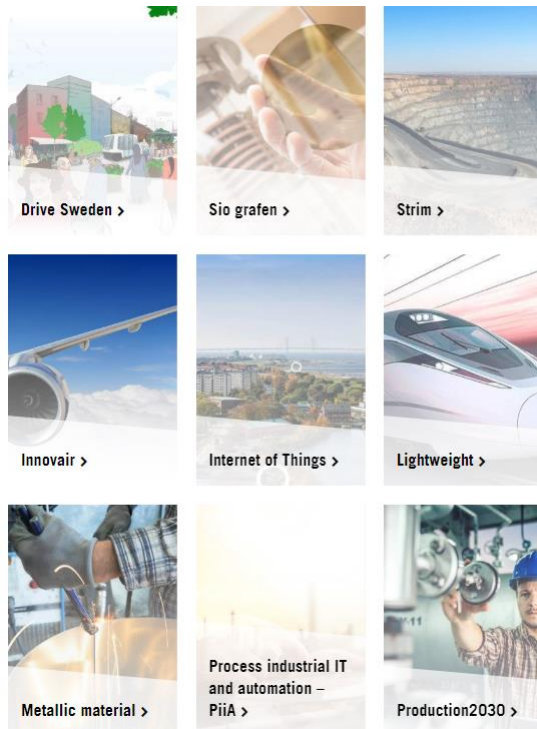

- ⇒ A foundation for ERDF and ESF OPs
- ⇒ Consensus-based
- ⇒ Process-oriented
- ⇒ Cross-sectorial

The main RIS3-related policy instruments

Strategic Innovation Programmes

VINNVÄXT

Innovation Partnership Programmes

www.ihubssweden.se

iHubs
SWEDEN

Areas of strength

Innovation programmes

Calendar

About iHubs Sweden

SV EN

About iHubs Sweden

iHubs Sweden is a national innovation platform that stands for smart specialisation and the development of industry through innovation.

Regional challenges

